Meeting of September 14, 2019

Welcome by Audrey with 13 ladies present.

The upcoming meetings are as follows:

October - Betty & Marg are each showing us a card. Betty's sample with instructions is included in this newsletter.

November - Christmas tags - 4 stations – Dede, Laura, Etta and Caralyn.

December - Play Day plus a "Garage Sale" - a time when we can take stamping items to sell ... and of course to buy! So you have 3 months to go through your Stamping Room to decide what you would like to take for the sale.

Other Business:

Further to the brief discussion at the August meeting - the Open House idea came up to discuss further. As Audrey said, it will take a lot of planning. Probably would need to be the day of our regular meeting. Late winter or early spring. An idea also came forward suggesting that interested people come to one of our regular meetings which could be promoted through the local newspapers Community Events section which is free (Sachem, Haldimand Press), local radio station, and by placing posters in various stores. Maybe two months free membership?

Door prize was won by Sandra.

The remainder of the meeting was turned over to Pat Ottaway-Bryan. This proved to be a very interesting meeting. She had asked us a month or so ago to look for pics of things that describe us (hobbies, etc., etc.) then a collage would be put together and framed. Wow, what a beautiful array of work came forth. Some had their work completed when they brought it to the meeting while others worked on theirs during the meeting. Some were set on the platform while others were on the table in front of them. We had a "Show & Tell" where Pat held each one up and first of all asked if we could guess whose collage it was. Then she took time to tell what each picture on the collage represented. A good time of sharing plus seeing what each member had done. The overall consensus of the morning was very positive. Thank you Pat for this very interesting and informative time spent with rubber stamping friends.

In the absence of Lilo, Sandra took the minutes.
