FEATURED ENTERTAINMENT:

Wayne Isbester,

Stan O'Shea, Ross Clarkson

Three amigos bring music and lyrics

Wayne, Stan and Ross share a passion for music of the 1950s and '60s, country and soft rock. They have channeled their longstanding love for the art into a group of five members assembled from various parts of the region. Three of those will entertain us at our Christmas luncheon: Wayne on bass guitar, Stan as lead guitarist and Ross as drummer. Wayne and Stan also sing.

While they started out making music just for themselves, the combo was simply too cool to keep under wraps. They have branched out into special events such as anniversaries, birthdays – and our Probud luncheon. Once a month, all five entertain at the Royal Canadian Legion in Guelph, where their fans come to boogie and do-si-do.

Today, their lives as musicians and friends yield interesting gigs and "lots of laughs." But they were not always so laid back. Wayne's 35-year career with the RCMP, culminating in the position of Superintendent of Criminal Intelligence, was busy and stressful. Stan ran his own auto body repair business, while Ross was a long-time employee of the Toronto Transit Commission.

Wayne's wife Pauline, as a Probian herself, knows that members will enjoy being serenaded by this talented trio. And she is sure that the luncheon event will feed both body and spirit.

Moraig Waite was one of fourteen people from First United Church who, under the auspices of the Samaritan Foundation, embarked on a mission to build a new men's rehabilitation centre in the Dominican Republic. This group raised $6,000 in advance of their journey in order to fund the build. In addition, each person took two 44-pound suit cases which they filled with school supplies, toiletries and other necessities, to distribute to the families in the area.

Probud Profile

Mary Ketchabaw

Probud member for 3½ years

Mary Ketchabaw has taken the threads of a difficult life and over 76 years has woven a creative, artistic journey out of adversity.

As the eldest of eight children in an impoverished family in Galt, Mary had to forfeit her education to help her parents and siblings. Her clothes were crafted from an aunt's hand-me-downs that were taken apart and re-sewn into dresses. At age 14, she went to work at Newlands Woolen Mill in Galt as a reel winder, taking a secretarial course at night. Since then, she has held various positions in companies such as K-Mart and Canada Trust, as well as assistant manager of Knotty Pine Gift Shop. She also toured North America as a Grand Officer with the Order of the Eastern Star.

However, Mary's passion has always been working with textiles, and she finds that it keeps her active, engaged and optimistic. Today, she is a renowned hand-quilter and pattern-maker who always has a project on the go. While she finds solace and contentment in sewing at home, Mary makes sure to engage in external social events. And that's her pattern for a balanced retirement.

Probud Profile features one member every other month. Names are drawn at random.

Please note:

Meeting dates for February and June are February 1st, 2017 and June 7, 2017.

President's Christmas message

What is Christmas to you? For some of us, it is important to remember the reason for the season. In my capacity as President, I have to abide by the By-Laws which expressly prohibit me from any religious comment. But I think you can read between the lines.

Is gift giving an important aspect of Christmas for you? We all know how joyful it is to watch the excitement on the faces of others as they open the gifts we have sometimes struggled to find for them. To have a hug and smile is reward enough, isn't it!

However the gift of friendship and fellowship is surely the most important gift of all. As I look around our meeting room at morning tea time, I get a wonderful sense of exactly that. And I wish to thank each one of you for that gift to me.

Christmas is a joyous time of coming together with families and friends. However, it is not always that way, especially as we think of our members who have recently lost loved ones. I know you will keep them in your thoughts and prayers during what will be a difficult time for them.

In closing, it is my pleasure to wish each and every one of you a very Merry Christmas and a safe and healthy New Year.

Kathy Cron
